CITY IN GALA MOOD FOR BIG PARADE TODAY

Visiting Bands Perform During Morning as Festivities Here Gain Early Start
Ball Game and Retreat Listed

Completely en fete for the day of the grand parade, Victoria started its anniversary festivities early today with visiting bands from Vancouver and Port Angeles giving citizens a foretaste of the music and marching scheduled for this afternoon's procession with impromptu displays in the downtown area.

Shortly after 8 this morning the neatly-clad company of Spencer's Remnants, ex-servicemen employed at the Vancouver department store, paraded from the boat in their natty blue flannel blazers, blue berets and blue striped grey flannel trousers. Behind the skirling pipes and rolling drums of the company the soldiers of the Great War marched in orderly ranks while hundreds of citizens left business premises or early shopping tours to watch.

They were succeeded by a drum and bugle corps of Port Angeles scouts, marching and performing their drills on downtown streets.

JUDGING AT PARK

During the morning decorated floats and historical features included in the parade started to move to the Athletic Park where judging took place.

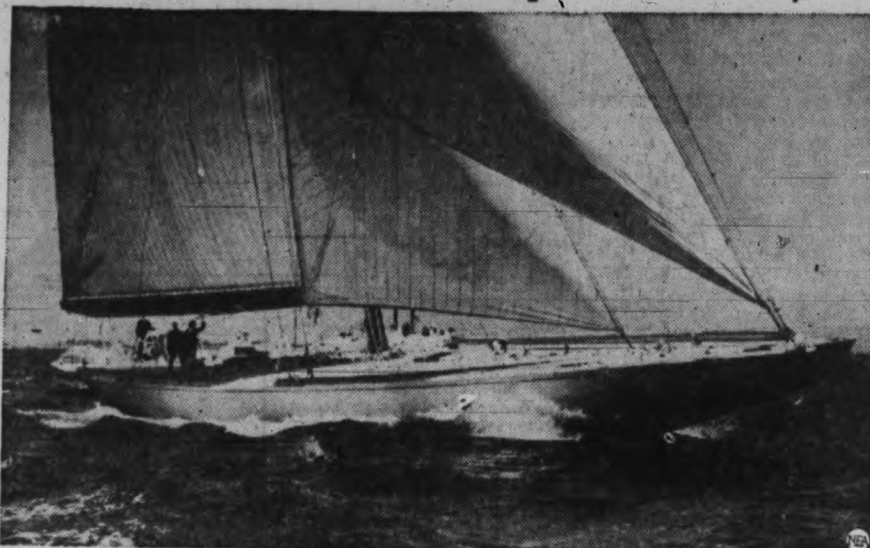

Shortly after noon the city played hosts to the Rhododendron Queen of Port Townsend and the Rose Festival Queen of Portland at a special luncheon in the Empress Hotel. Their Majesties left immediately after to assume their places in the parade.

At an early hour this afternoon citizens began taking their places along the route of the grand parade.

Following the procession hundreds were expected to throng to the exhibition baseball game between Wenatchee and Vancouver at the Athletic Park at 5.

This evening at 8, shortly before the city assumes the gala appearance lent to it by the strings of decorated lights and other illuminations, the pipe band of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

Planes and Ships Search Caribbean Off Panama Canal

CRISTOBAL, Panama Canal Zone (AP) — Two squadrons of United States planes reinforced an intensive search today in the waters 20 miles west of Colon for the fuselage of a wrecked Pan-American-Grace plane which seemingly carried 14 persons to an unexplained death.

Reports that the plane's fuselage itself had been located proved unfounded today. Other debris was located.

Assisting two United States destroyers and three submarines, the planes concentrated on an area 500 miles square. They were hoping to locate the remains of the Sikorsky amphibian which disappeared as it neared the end of a flight from Guayaquil, Ecuador.

In the neighborhood of the hunt the depth of the water varies from 30 to 200 fathoms. Naval officers indicated that if the fuselage lay in the deeper water it would be almost impossible to salvage.

"Kidnapping" Is Family Tangle

Chicago Police Find Baby Boy at Home of Couple Claiming Him

CHICAGO (AP)—Assistant State Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley said a 31-month-old boy police believed had been kidnapped Tuesday evening from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Horst was found today at the home of another couple who claimed to be his real parents.

The boy, Donald Horst, was recovered by Crowley and state attorney's police at the west side home of John Regan, 26, a machinist, and his wife, Lydia, 25.

Crowley said the Regans had come to his office voluntarily this morning after reading newspaper accounts of the taking of Donald from the Horst residence in an exclusive northwest side section, and told him they had the child.

Mrs. Horst, wife of a well-to-do sound equipment manufacturer, battled, screaming, to prevent the taking of the boy.

The Regans denied, however, making any telephone call purporting to be a demand for $5,000 ransom. Mrs. Horst reported such a call to police shortly after the child was taken.

The amazing circumstances which Crowley said the Regans (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Howe at Vancouver Hears Delegation Request Trans-Canada Extension

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, was interviewed today by a delegation from Victoria, seeking extension of the proposed trans-Canada airline to Vancouver Island, and federal aid in building a modern airport at Victoria.

The delegation was headed by Alderman Archie Wills, chairman of Victoria City airport committee. With him were R. H. B. Ker, Ernest Eve, C. H. O'Halloran and Harold Husband.

Aboard Constguard Cutter Argo Off Newport, R.I. (AP)

—After setting a record for the 15-mile beat to windward, Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger today gained her third straight victory in defence of the America's Cup, finishing nearly a mile in front of T. O. M. Sopwith's British challenger, Endeavour II, at the end of the 30-mile windward-leeward course.

Ranger finished at 3:34.30 p.m., E.S.T., official timing.

As the skipper first winning four races wins the series, one more victory by Ranger would keep the cup in the New York Yacht Club's possession.

AT HALF-WAY MARK

When Harold S. Vanderbilt brought Ranger around the outer mark at 1:43.47 p.m. E.S.T. with a three-quarter mile lead over Endeavour II, at the halfway point in their 30-mile windward-leeward race, it seemed clear to spectators the defender was headed for victory.

Ranger, covering the distance from the start to the turning buoy in 2 hours 3 minutes 47 seconds, set a new record for a 15-mile windward leg. Her time was 38 seconds better than that established by Rainbow, also skippered by Vanderbilt, in the first race of the 1934 series against Sopwith's Endeavour I.

Endeavour II rounded the mark, set about eight miles southeast of Block Island, at 1:47.59.

Both broke out spinnakers for the 15-mile run home before the breeze and both were dilatory in setting them. Ranger's appeared to be stuck in the stops while Endeavour's was late in being set up. When it finally was broken out it drew badly, whereas Ranger's drew very well.

Endeavour set her spinnaker, of the perforated "Annie Oakley" type, to port, while Ranger's was set to starboard, which should mean no advantage to either provided the breeze, which recently had freshened to about 14-mile velocity, held fair.

Extortion Attempt On Flight Tragedy

Husband of Missing Amelia Earhart Has Man Arrested in New York

WASHINGTON (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover disclosed today that United States federal agents had arrested Wilbur Roth of New York in connection with an attempt to extort $2,000 from George Palmer Putnam for the safe return of his missing aviatrix wife, Amelia Earhart.

Amelia Earhart was lost with her navigator, Fred Noonan, in mid-Pacific on a flight around the world.

Hoover, director of the federal Bureau of Investigation, said Putnam had received a letter last Sunday advising him his wife was on a ship and that the writer would contact him the following day.

SAID HE WAS SEAMAN

The man who subsequently talked with Putnam said he was a seaman on a ship out of New Guinea engaged in smuggling narcotics.

While at sea, the man told Putnam, the ship sighted a wrecked plane and took off an injured woman who members of the crew later identified as Miss Earhart. The man demanded $2,000 for her safe return.

Putnam immediately conferred with federal agents, who later laid a trap in New York and arrested Roth when, Hoover said, he called on Tuesday to collect the $2,000.

Hoover said Roth admitted he had not been away from New York "for some years," and that the entire story was false.

Ontario General Election Expected To Be Held Oct. 5

With Cabinet Meeting Today, Anticipated Hepburn Will Announce Date

TORONTO (CP)—Belief grew today that Premier Mitchell Hepburn would announce the date of an autumn general election following a meeting of the Ontario cabinet this afternoon.

The Premier was expected to reach his Queen's Park office before mid-afternoon and immediately go into conference with members of the cabinet awaiting his arrival. All political groups confidently anticipated an announcement of the date within a few hours.

Most guesses in Liberal and Conservative circles are October 5.

ELECTED IN 1934

The Hepburn Liberal government was elected to power in the general election of June 19, 1934, winning 66 of the 90 seats in the Legislature. Conservatives won 17, Liberal-Progressives four; Cooperative Commonwealth Federation one, Independent one and United Farmers of Ontario one.

Present standing in the House is: Liberals 64, Conservatives 17, Liberal-Progressives four, C.C.F. one, Independent one, U.F.O. one, vacant two.

Since the first of the year the government has lost two followers by death—George McQuibban in Wellington North and J. A. Sangster in Glengarry. In neither case was a by-election called.

NOMINATION CONVENTION

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn was present Tuesday night when the executive committee of Elgin Liberals canceled all arrangements for a party in honor of his 40th birthday August 12 and decided instead to hold a nominating convention here the same day.

Mr. Hepburn left today for Toronto, where a definite Ontario election announcement will be made after a cabinet meeting to be held immediately after his arrival.

Chinese Name New Army Leader As Japanese Advance

Gen. Pei Reported Chiang's Choice to Bar Southward March From Peiping

NANKING, China (CP-Havas)—Gen. Pei Chung-hsi, war lord of Kwangsi province, arrived here late Wednesday for a conference with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, which is expected to result in the naming of the southern leader as chief of staff of the central government armies.

PLANES CLEAR PATH

PEIPING (AP)—Japanese authorities proclaimed Wednesday that continuous bombardments by squadrons of war planes had routed western concentrations of the Chinese army and blasted a clear path for the southward march of Japanese troops from this conquered Manchurian capital.

The Japanese statement declared Chinese troops, reported to have been concentrated in force at Paotingfu, 85 miles south here, "perished or fled during the air bombardment."

The announcement, scattered from the sky by Japanese planes in a pamphlet deluge, stated "all north Hopei province has been occupied. The troops of the Nanking government will not come north. If they do the Japanese will strike immediately."

A major engagement was expected, however, at Nankow Pass, 20 miles north of Peiping, where 4,000 Japanese troops were gathered for an attack on the Chinese positions north of the Great Wall.

All Japanese nationals were ordered to evacuate Kalgan, Chinese stronghold and capital of Chahar province, 100 miles to the northwest.

Extra Week of School Holiday

British Columbia school children and teachers will get six more days summer holidays than they had expected.

Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, announced today the government, sitting as the council of public instruction, has decided to postpone the reopening of the schools until September 7. They were to have opened September 1.

Dr. Weir said that opening at the beginning of the month would allow only three days in the first school week, hardly sufficient time to get the pupils settled. In addition, he explained, about 50 per cent of the teachers are taking summer school courses this year and the extra week will give them sufficient time to complete their training.

Schools closed on June 30 and if they had reopened on September 1 it would have been the shortest school summer holiday on record.

Bells Toll, Reminding Nation Germans Crossed Border August 4, 1914

BRUSSELS (AP)—Church bells tolled throughout Belgium today to remind the nation that just 23 years ago the first German troops crossed the frontier, drawing Belgium into the Great War.

At exactly 8:02 a.m. August 4, 1914, a Uhlan patrol passed the border marker at Gemmenich after Belgium had rejected the ultimatum demanding free passage for the German armies.

Pay Increase For Sawmill Workers

Industrial Relations Board Raises Minimum Five Cents an Hour

An increase of 5 cents an hour in the minimum wage rates for 15,000 sawmill and wood-working factory employees in British Columbia was ordered today by the Board of Industrial Relations, effective August 16.

The basic minimum wage of 35 cents an hour for adult workers in these occupations is increased to 40 cents an hour by the orders.

In the sawmills it is specified at least 90 per cent of employees in one plant must be paid the 40 cent rate. The remaining 10 per cent may be paid not less than 30 cents, including men under 21 years of age whose scale is raised from 25 to 30 cents.

In the wood-working industries, which include sash and door mills, cabinet making, show-cases, furniture and store fixtures, veneer products and general mill-work, the basic minimum is raised to 40 cents. Young men between 18 and 21 are raised 25 to 30 cents; and those under 18 from 20 to 25 cents an hour. It is provided that not more than one-third of the employees in a plant may be paid less than 40 cents.

Improved conditions were given as the reason for the general increase which applies all over the province. Properly indentured apprentices are excluded.

Fire-fighter Eats a "Meal"

Fighting forest fires makes one hungry—really hungry. Officials of the British Columbia Forest Service, now in the height of their season, vouch for this statement. As proof they submit the following as the breakfast eaten by one man at a single sitting: Sixteen eggs, one can tomatoes, one-half can of jam, one and one-half loaves of bread, one-half pound butter, seven cups coffee, six potatoes and one-quarter pound of cheese.

The cook said the man was still hungry and would have eaten more if a hastily organized "protection committee" of the firefighters had not driven him from the cookhouse "in self defence."

Entering the store with a watch he said he wanted regulated, the unmasked bandit jerked a .38 calibre revolver from his coat pocket and surprised Max Bender, manager.

CHINESE LEAVE JAPAN
The government of China, apprehensive of the safety of the 8,000 Chinese in Japan was reported to have started their evacuation from the island empire. While Japanese troops at the Great Wall prepared to strike at the Chinese forces in the north, two reinforced Japanese armies, marching in parallel columns in eastern and western Hopeh province, pushed steadily southward against the main defence lines of the Chinese central government troops.

The first fruits of the conquest of north China were believed borne Wednesday when the autonomous government of east Hopeh announced it was opening its administrative offices in Peiping. Headquarters of the Japanese-dominated regime had been at Tungchow, 12 miles to the east, until now. Establishment of such a government for virtually all of north China was believed to be one of Japan's major objectives in the undeclared war. Peiping itself was decorated as though for a tragic holiday, with flags of all nations being displayed by their nationals to assure safety in the event of renewed hostilities.

COMMUNISTS' MOVES
TOKIO (CP-Havas) — Belief that China's Communist armies planned to attack Japanese forces in north China from the rear added Wednesday night to the concern of Japanese political circles here, already perturbed by a growing Chinese boycott against Japanese business firms in China.

The red armies, which recently concluded an alliance with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek after years of warfare against his regime in the rocky fastnesses of northwestern China, were thought here to be planning an advance across Shansi and Suiyuan provinces toward Jehol. Such a march, it was admitted, would place them in an excellent position to hit at the Japanese rear.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A semi-official Vatican statement today said the Holy See is maintaining cordial relations with the Spanish insurgent government, but no steps have been taken toward formal diplomatic recognition. The Vatican secretariat described as "inexact" dispatches from Salamanca, seat of the insurgent regime, reporting the insurgents and the Vatican formally were exchanging diplomatic representatives. It was explained that although the Vatican has given diplomatic approval to the nomination of Pablo de Churruarín, Marquis of Ayacucho, as insurgent semi-official representative to the Vatican, the situation remains unchanged.

Instead of two, the organization was able to send five men to Vimy. The names of these five were drawn from a barrel.

The ex-service men decided to stick together after the pilgrimage was over and formed a mutual benefit association which they called Spencer's Remnants.

Besides paying the salary of the five men when they were at Vimy, the David Spencer Store in Vancouver has provided them with uniforms and colors. The trip to Victoria today was paid for entirely by the firm.

SMART ORGANIZATION
Spencer's Remnants are among the smartest ex-service organizations. Their uniform consists of a blue blazer with white edging and a maple leaf badge with the letter R in the centre, a blue beret with a metal maple leaf badge, grey flannels with a blue stripe down the centre, white shirt and blue tie.

Though almost 20 years have gone by, Spencer's Remnants appeared to have forgotten none of their military training as they stepped smartly to the barked commands of their officers.

The band of 11 pipers and six drummers is the only part of the contingent of 107 men which is not made up of returned soldiers. Spencer's Remnants are made up of men from every organization that served overseas from 1914 to 1918. Most of them left jobs in the Vancouver store to go to the war and returned to them after the Armistice.

Their president is Ed. Worsley. Jack Yardley, vice-president, was in command of the contingent today. The band was under the leadership of Pipe-major Archie Macindawar.

sail for the run home, and Sopwith also turned the steering joo over to another member of his after-guard — apparently Sir Ralph Gore.

Neither Sopwith nor his wife was visible on the deck as Endeavour opened her downwind stern chase. Endeavour was forced to hold high on the course to keep her spinnaker drawing. Ranger continued to widen her lead, with a margin of nearly a mile at 2.30 p.m. E.S.T.

START OF CONTEST

The start of today's race saw Vanderbilt pilot Ranger across the line about two boat lengths in front of the British challenger, Endeavour II, at 11.40 a.m. E.S.T.

After his defeats Saturday and Monday, Sopwith had changed the trim of Endeavour. She was lightened of more than 5,000 pounds of lead ballast Tuesday in the hope she would become a more formidable contender in the light weather prevailing off this port at this season of the year.

As the rival yachts set off from the starting line for their 15-mile beat to windward into a south-west wind, both were on the starboard tack. Vanderbilt had timed the start to a split second and crossed the line promptly at 11.40 for the finest getaway of the series.

Each yacht was wearing double head-rig, with staysails and quadrilaterals. Sopwith gained the weather berth.

Endeavour went over on the port tack four minutes after the start, a clear admission by Sopwith that he was trailing and had no hope of passing to the weather side of the defender. Ranger tackled immediately to keep the challenger covered.

The promise of a brisk breeze—the wind had been blowing at about 12 miles an hour before the start—was unfulfilled as it moderated to about 10 miles.

The race began with Ranger immediately drawing away from the challenger. In 10 minutes the defender had opened up a lead of about six lengths.

Sopwith inaugurated a short tacking match, in which Vanderbilt followed him for the first few tacks and then apparently decided to sail the course himself. This left Endeavour on the port tack and Ranger on the starboard.

When Ranger finally came about on the port tack, she occupied a commanding weather berth.

By 12.40 a.m., an hour after the start, Ranger had run her lead up to more than a quarter of a mile. At that time the yachts were being pushed along by a breeze that had freshened to velocity of more than 14 miles an hour.

On Saturday evening a special torchlight procession will be held, starting at the intersection of Belleville and Menzies Streets, while on the afternoon of that day Port Townsend will send a squad of Victoria all-stars in a game at the Athletic Park.

PARK CONCERT
As its main feature on Sunday, the city will sponsor an orchestral programme by William Tickle's Orchestra at Beacon Hill.

The continued gaiety of today followed another spectacular performance of the Military Tattoo in Macdonald Park last night. Crowded to overflowing for the initial presentation on Monday evening, the park was jammed to an even greater extent for the second performance. Approximately 7,000 saw the final display, utilizing every seat and ranging in several rows around the infield, where standing room was available.

PEIPING (AP) — This ancient Chinese city has taken on the appearance of celebrating a French holiday. French flags are everywhere.

Native flagmakers were swamped with orders from foreigners for flags of their various countries to fly from their homes and motor cars for protection during the Japanese-Chinese hostilities.

Unable to meet the demand if they took time to make such complicated flags as the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, they are reaping the harvest by filling all orders with the simple, quickly-made French tri-color.

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (CP) — A flying officer, J. L. Henning, 23, of Wawanesa, Man., lost his life and Corporal L. Collins of Belleville, was saved when the Royal Canadian Air Force flying boat they were traveling in crashed into the Bay of Quinte today.

They were flying east with a tail wind when the motor stalled and Henning tried to swing the plane around into the wind. It lost flying speed and plunged into the water from a height of only 60 feet.

Eight of the R.C.A.F. personnel found the plane in shallow water and had to bring it to shore before they could cut the body of Henning loose.

Collins managed to extricate himself as the plane hit the water and swam to shore.

The body of Flying Officer Henning will be sent to Winnipeg for burial.

Family Tangle

related, and which he said solved the "kidnapping," but left a baby mixup to be investigated, were these:

Donald was born to Mrs. Regan January 6, 1935, and Regan was the father, but they were not then married. The attending physician, Dr. John A. Rose, told the mother he knew a "wealthy man" who wanted a child.

Mrs. Regan agreed to let Dr. Rose arrange for care of the child, but believed it was a temporary arrangement, and signed no papers.

The child was taken from Mrs. Regan 15 minutes after its birth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ewert. Ewert was a chauffeur for Dr. Rose.

In divulging the above Crowley added the baby then was given into the care of Mr. and Mrs. Horst and a birth certificate was filed purporting to show the Horsts were the natural parents. Recently, Ewert told Mrs. Regan the Horst's child was hers, Crowley said, and Mrs. Regan decided to take it "at the first opportunity."

ALL QUESTIONED
Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state attorney's police said he had ordered his men to round up "everybody who had any connection whatever with the birth of this child."

While Crowley said Mrs. Regan had told him the child was born at the Ewert home, a birth certificate for Donald Otto Horst asserted the boy was born to Mrs. Horst on January 4, 1935, at another residence, home of friends of the Horsts.

Capt. Gilbert added another baffling phase to the case by declaring that "Horst was notified he was a father, and found Mrs. Horst in bed with a child, and was congratulated by friends." Capt. Gilbert said his investigators intended to question Dr. Rose, now visiting in Batavia, N.Y., as well as the Regans, the Horsts, the Ewerts and "all others concerned."

QUICK ACTION
Mrs. Horst, a slender red-haired woman of 29, was watching little Donald play in a back yard sandpile of their northwest side home Tuesday evening when a man and woman suddenly demanded "Is this Donald?" grabbed the lad, and fled.

The young mother overtook them as they entered a waiting car, crying "Stop them. Get my baby."

In desperate effort to get the boy, she seized the man, tearing his shirt. Three neighbors ran to her assistance. They were Orin Link, 23, Robert Link, 29, and Attorney Joseph Emmel Jr., all members of families prominent in the city.

One of the male kidnappers struck Mrs. Horst a blow which sent her reeling into Emmel's arms. Orin Link was knocked off the car as it sped off.

Neighbors told police the woman kidnapper seated in the car yelled at Mrs. Horst: "He isn't your baby. He's mine."

NEW YORK — The "curse of King Tut" went to a discount today as hospital authorities reported Herbert Winlock, New York scientist who was present at the opening of Tutankhamen's tomb, was "much better." Attendants said the director of the Metropolitan Museum had only entered the hospital for a rest cure necessitated by overwork on a book he is writing. His illness had given rise to rumors he might be added to the "curse death" list of those present at the opening of the Egyptian tomb in 1923.

Louisiana has successfully introduced trichogramme minuti, a tiny insect which preys on the sugar cane borer.

Mrs. Dunsmuir

Laura Miller Dunsmuir was one who contributed vitally to giving Victoria as a city that personality to which reference has been made during the current observance of the 75th birthday anniversary of its incorporation. From the time she came here in 1876 as a bride of 18 until recently, when an affliction and the burden of age curtailed her activities and interests, she was a constructive force and a great power for good in the community.

As the wife of the man who became the Hon. James Dunsmuir, coal baron, railroad owner, premier and lieutenant-governor of British Columbia, life afforded her exceptional opportunities. These she took advantage of in such a way as to carve for herself a permanent niche in the esteem of the public. As a hostess at Government House and at her magnificent Hatley Park home she carried out her role with charm, graciousness and dignity. As a philanthropist and, after the death of Mr. Dunsmuir, herself a custodian of great wealth, she was most generous and wise in her benefactions. A native of North Carolina, she exemplified throughout her life in all her relationships that quality traditionally characteristic of the southerner. She was quiet and self-effacing, but she was not aloof. She had a broad sympathy and human understanding. Persons in all walks of life were included in the intimate circle of her valued friendship. For her personal qualities she was endeared to all.

Altogether, Mrs. Dunsmuir was a remarkable woman. Especially, when it is recalled that with all her responsibilities and interests, she had the vitality and the time to bear and raise 13 children. In her passing there is cut the last link of that generation of the Dunsmuir family which in the last part of the last century and the early years of this played a leading role in the opening up and general development of British Columbia. In every way her death means a great loss to this city, but she leaves us with the memory of a life productive of great good.

"Old Stuff" Down There

POLITICAL SCRAPS AMONG THE NATIONS of Central America have made little news items for newspaper readers for years. Noting that another general had stormed a palace and upset a president, or that a group of rebels were besieging the legislature, the general reaction was a tolerant smirk and the light observation about "those South Americans".

Now, filtering out of the jungle-bound capitals of the isthmus, comes a more disturbing piece of news. It is the warning cry that the bad boys there are tinkering with ideas "borrowed" from the trans-Atlantic Fascist "iron men". On the face of the report that Guatemala, El Salvador and Honduras have set up a bloc of dictatorships for their mutual protection against disturbing elements "coming across the border," there might at first seem to be some basis for the alarm.

At the bottom of the movement is the fact that presidents of two of the nations are serving second terms contrary to constitution. Gen. Tiburcio Carias Andino of Honduras, inaugurated Feb. 1, 1933, for a four-year term, is still in office. Gen. Jorge Ubico, President of Guatemala, inaugurated Feb. 14, 1931, for a six-year term, also is still in office. These two men, with Gen. Maximiliano Martinez of El Salvador, hold power over more than 4,500,000 people, including political prisoners, estimated at from 1,500 to 5,000 in Honduras alone.

Many a page in these dictators' tactical handbook parallels those followed in European dictatorships. Presidential palaces are guarded with machine guns; only the army is paid decent wages, and in some cases only the army is paid at all; substantial "menaces" are perpetuated for propaganda purposes. Guatemala and El Salvador have adopted Communism as their "bete noir," while Honduras still is satisfied to have the elementary common rebel and soldier of fortune "gnawing at its institutions".

Just how this Fascist concept managed to get its start and grow to such proportions so quickly, thousands of miles from the Italian and German centres of political holiness, really is not mysterious.

The fact is that the one-man, strong-arm dictatorship type of government was in vogue in Central and South America before Mussolini and Hitler were born. Testifying to this are the long years which outside soldiers and diplomats vainly spent trying to democratize the governmental processes of some of these temperamental new world nations.

If we should fear, then, that Central America is doomed to be ravaged by the germ of Fascism and dictatorship, we need only refer to the history of that area to learn that its politicians can give any tyrant on earth cards and spades and beat him hands down at the tricks of the trade.

How Much Bathing Suit?

VANCOUVER NEWSPAPERS WERE BE-sieged last summer, and Victoria newspapers have had the first this summer of what may be an avalanche of letters regarding the style of bathing suit that may be considered as meeting the rules of propriety at the beach. Toronto the Good has made decrees on this subject—among them that even boys may not use shorts. Other cities in Canada have occasionally issued edicts on the subject generally relating to the amount of covering which must cloak the female form for a day on the sands.

The criticism smacks somewhat of the smug prudery of the mid-Victorian era. Where regulations are made at all on the subject it is a pretty safe guess they are made by a band of city fathers governing themselves by the standards of the alleged gay nineties. The world and its standards have moved since then. Present-day frankness probably stands for a higher morality than the secretive snickering at a woman's ankle 50 years ago. Short skirts long ago eliminated that sort of thing. Bathing suits built for comfort have been another advance. With the elimination of mystery and secretiveness has come a franker, cleaner relationship and mingling of the sexes which tend to a purer attitude than the whispering suggestiveness of the days of four-piece swimming suits.

The question of what constitutes proper dress for swimmers at the beach can probably be safely left to the decency of the present generation without interference from their elders, who find it hard to change with the changing times.

Promising Features

MIDSUMMER FINDS CANADIAN BUSINESS at the crossroads, with a number of promising conditions side by side with discouraging aspects. The good features, viewed from the long range, are viewed as outweighing the disappointing ones. The small crop indicated in the West stands at the top of those factors regarded as affecting disadvantageously the economic welfare of the Dominion. But it is assumed that higher prices per bushel of wheat will offset somewhat the disappointing yield.

Closely allied with the wheat situation is freight tonnage of the railways. While car-loadings have shown substantial betterment during the current year, a condition which has reflected itself in higher earnings for both Canadian systems, it is felt in some quarters that an immoderately low wheat yield, will be detrimental to railway freight movements during the latter part of this year. This is undeniable, but at the same time it should be remembered that movement of base metals, heavy machinery, consumer goods, pulp and paper products and other merchandise as well as farm products will continue satisfactory. Moreover, passenger traffic, implemented by a heavy influx of tourists, is a real boon to the railways.

Tourist traffic, one of the most profitable "industries" in the Dominion, is this year expected to break all former records for value to the country. What this means to retail trade in many centres, to the provincial governments in indirect taxation, on fuel products, for example, is incalculable.

Foreign trade, based on many of those factors, is continuing to make very good reading, customs and excise returns being decidedly higher than in any year since the last wave of prosperity began to wane.

A Justifiable War

COMPLETE WITH PHOTOGRAPHS AND fingerprints of all known white slave traffickers in the world, a new "rogues' gallery" is now being prepared with the setting up of the Far East Bureau of the League of Nations. Regular reports on the traffic in women and children will be received by the bureau from every country associated with its work and will be circulated to all others.

The reports will contain the particulars of persons convicted of trafficking in women, girls and children, those deported for such offenses, and wanted persons "who have made their escape before a warrant of arrest issued against them could be executed."

The officials of the League of Nations assert that the "wanted" or "suspected" will have small chance of evading the law, as fool-proof plans for their apprehension are already in operation.

The war on the white slave traffic is one war that the League of Nations can encourage with beneficial effect to humanity. It is a sample of the socially constructive work of which the League is capable in the international field.

Notes

A thing of beauty may be a joy forever, but a wrecked automobile will draw a larger crowd.

Those Davis Cup victories, as the Ottawa Journal has analyzed them, are largely one-man affairs. The United States won it when it had Tilden, France when it had Cochet, Britain when it had Perry. Now the United States wins again when it has Budge.

The Toronto Star reminds us that it was its editor, J. T. Clark, who passed away the other day, who wrote in the late nineties that the 20th century was to be Canada's century. The saying has frequently been credited to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and no doubt he, too, used it; but the original prophecy was Clark's.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

RETURN TO YOUTH

THE first thing I noticed was the way all the trees and brush had grown up. Why, in the old days, you could see the lake from anywhere along the road. Now a thick jungle, 40 feet high, hid the water. It made me realize with a start that I hadn't been back to the old place up the island since the war. It seemed like yesterday, coming back along the old road, but a score of years had passed and we had grown up, a thing bad to believe.

The old farm, where we used to work in the summer time, helping Dave Todd when he couldn't get men during the war was all changed, too, and laid out with lawns and flower beds, so that I could hardly recognize it. The log house was the same, though, the deep brown, rambling house that Dave started to build in 1885 (with nothing but an axe, a saw, a hammer and a few pounds of nails) and kept on building and extending until it is now a wondrous chaos, with a geography as complicated as the map of Europe. In front of the house the ancient maples flourished, as ever, but had grown to a spread of 100 feet each. Dave dug them up in the woods when he first came here and planted them when they were less than a foot high. And while the successive governments of British Columbia allowed the maples of Parliament Square to starve to death on a bare lawn, Dave had fed his trees year by year with tons of new earth, with rations of good barnyard stuff and the rich scrapings of his chicken houses.

We used to eat our lunch under the giant maples on the hot July days after we had been swinging a scythe all morning—swinging it clumsily and often hitting the big stumps in the middle of the hayfields. What lunches they were! Such food as you can not buy with pounds sterling on the boulevards of Europe or in the inns of England. There was fresh, rich milk, cooled in the deep, sweet root cellar, and home-made bread, heavy and full of a splendid masculine quality utterly unlike the puffed-up, fluffy, effeminate bread you get nowadays. There were new-laid eggs and cold boiled bacon and raspberries and cream, and three or four puddings and pies. And never on land or sea has a human stomach been known to hold as much as Jim and I used to gobble up after a morning in the hayfields, when we had just turned 15.

They still live that way at the Todds'. There is still home-made bread and those hard, crunchy rock cakes that we used to take up the creek on our fishing trips, often piling the fish in with them in a flour sack hung around our necks. There are still huge bowls of raspberries and jugs of thick, brimming milk and new-laid eggs. In all those years since 1885, when Dave Todd owned only a few tools and a milk goat, they have kept up the tradition of the full table and a hospitality which has extended to every traveler, every logger, every waif and stray on the island.

But they have kept up something much more valuable than that—a tradition of civilization here in the middle of the island jungle. Everywhere in British Columbia you can see people deteriorating before the slow, day-by-day march of the forest, the loneliness, the heat and the cold and the grinding toil. But at the Todds', even as small boys, we always had to put on a clean shirt for dinner and Dave never missed his bath in the tin tub. (The bathroom, with running water, only came after 30 years.) No meal was ever served without a clean white table cloth and the inside of the old log house was as clean as any living room in Victoria. Always in the summer time the perfume of honeysuckle came through the open windows from the little garden which Dave managed somehow to tend, even when he had none to help him with the farm.

This, I thought as I came back to the old farm, shows you what a determined man and a brave wife can do on the land of our island in the jungle. When the Todds came here there was nothing on the land but stumps where the skid-road loggers and their oxen had been. They built the first room of the log house and bought a dug-out canoe from the Indians. Now, with no money but what they have wrung from their little fields, they have a fine house, a beautiful garden and big lawns, a giant barn with 20 cows, all kinds of machinery and tools and sheds and motor boats. All have been wrung from the wilderness, which has retreated foot by foot, acre by acre, which has to be fought back again and again as it surges into the fields.

All the rest of us have left the old place. Jim, who used to swing a scythe with me and sneak down to the creek for a drink and a rest in the shade, is a big financier in Wall Street. Harry never came back from the war. Alice married well in England. We have all gone, and done well enough for ourselves, but the real success was old Dave Todd and his son Alistair, who does most of the work now. They have succeeded in getting more out of life than any of us. They have done more for the country than all the politicians, uplifters and reformers put together. They have conquered the earth and understood it, where we, and everybody else living the easy life of cities, have conquered nothing and understood nothing. And where civilization has steadily declined in the cities, except for its cheap and worthless trimmings, a real civilization and a real culture have lived and flourished here, with the jungle all around, and a kindliness and quiet leisure after the day's work such as the cities of men never know.

I have traveled in many distant places lately, but I come back to the old farm where we used to spend our summers, and I find it the most interesting place I have seen, its owner the most successful man I have ever met.

Gold Mine Lobby Uses Press Club

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD
OTTAWA.

IN STRICTLY Federal circles the most significant movement of a long time is the lobby of the gold mining interests which has recently struck its tent and accepted a temporary defeat—but only temporary. Its closing threat was to return. And the next time it comes back—according to the imperious warning of the lobby's individual members—it will not leave until it has carried its point.

What the lobby wanted was an extension of the income tax concessions already granted to gold mines and to the owners of gold-mining securities. As the law stands, the mines now receive a remission of one-third of their income tax on the grounds that their property is being depleted. For the same reason—that a part of their dividends should be regarded not as annual yield but as a return of capital—owners of gold-mining securities have enjoyed a 20 per cent exemption for income tax purposes of their revenue from this source.

These concessions are substantial and cost the Federal treasury many millions of dollars annually. But they are not enough to satisfy the gold-mining interests. The significant feature of their lobby, however, was not so much what they sought, as the manner in which they sought it. Cabinet ministers declare that never have they been more arrogantly approached. The gold-mining interests made no secret, allegedly, of the fact that they now owned a great organ of public opinion in Ontario—The Globe and Mail—and that it was available for use as a club over the head of refractory governments. Furthermore, they are said to have managed to convey the impression that they were in process of negotiating the purchase of other newspapers. Altogether, they made little secret of the fact that their proposition to the government was, to state it crudely, that it must "play ball" with them or suffer the consequences.

Federal ministers replied to the members of the lobby that they represented the only industry in the country which, throughout the years of the depression, had not only been fortunate enough to have a guaranteed market for all it could produce, but also had the price of its commodity increased by approximately 75 per cent by government action. When, in addition to such advantages, the industry enjoyed income tax exemptions such as no other enterprise or individual was given, it was in no reasonable position to claim—so the Federal ministers replied—further governmental favors.

So the lobby has withdrawn for the present. But it has withdrawn muttering curses and maledictions and promising, in authentic villain fashion, to return again. And its intimation is that the next time it comes it will come as the owner of still other organs of public opinion to reinforce The Globe and Mail as a club over the head of the government. The warning, combined with the persistence of the gold-mining interests in obtaining their ends, lends point to recent rumors which Ottawa has been hearing of negotiations for Montreal and another Toronto newspaper properties by the gold-mining millionaires.

Worries About What Girls Don't Wear

From The Ottawa Journal

NOW it is Eastview's turn to concern itself about the garments girls put on, or leave off, in the summer time. Aylmer tried to regulate these things, and Hull, and we have not heard of any result other than a lot of facetious comment. Eastview, we venture to predict, will be no more successful in stemming the tide of fashion by bylaws and the police.

In particular the complaint was made by a member of Eastview council that girls ride their bicycles and walk about the streets wearing "shorts," and it was suggested this practice was a menace to the community morals. There was talk also about scanty bathing costumes, about men who go swimming in trunks, and a feeling that something ought to be done.

We doubt that public or private morals are gravely endangered by the spectacle of girls in shorts or men in bathing trunks. Exposure of the human anatomy is a matter of convention, and the time when a glimpse of a feminine knee caused something of a sensation is now far behind us.

But whether modern abbreviated summer attire is a good thing or a bad, there is mighty little Eastview council can do about it. Council can pass bylaws till the cows come home, and if the girls want to wear shorts they will wear them. Eastview can say in its most formidable tones that girls walking in the streets or riding bicycles must be covered to the knee—but can it send a girl to jail for appearing in short shorts? We know the answer.

Tension Now Easing In Mediterranean

Chamberlain-Duce Letters Improve European Relations

LONDON (CP)—A new phase has opened in Anglo-Italian relations.

The purpose of the exchange of letters between Prime Minister Chamberlain and Premier Mussolini in the last few days was to restore relations between the two countries to the cordial basis existing when the Mediterranean agreement was signed in January. It was then thought that the agreement, accepting the status quo in the Mediterranean, would iron out existing differences between London and Rome. For a time the darkened skies cleared, but only for a time. Difficulties arose over Spain. Relations deteriorated again.

British circles are obviously pleased to note Rome's cordial response to the new British gesture. It is regarded as an augury of relaxed tension in the Mediterranean and general improvement in European relations. A few days ago the British government circulated among the powers a memorandum on the proposed western pact, replacing the Locarno Treaty which Hitler knocked to pieces when German soldiers goose-stepped into the Rhineland. This memorandum went no further than to outline the existing position of the negotiations. Mr. Chamberlain now plans to quicken the machinery for a western pact. Reaction from Rome is favorable, but the Italians want to be sure of recognition of their conquest of Ethiopia.

Great Britain's position is that the question of Ethiopia lies with the League of Nations. Ethiopia, although the Emperor is in exile and the Italians are in control, is still a member of the League. It sent a delegation to the League Assembly a year ago. Now the Assembly will be called on to decide whether in law Ethiopia has any legal existence. If the Assembly decides against Ethiopia pressure will be brought to secure formal recognition of Italy's conquest.

Summer School of Education Students Present Programme

Surrounded by a large gallery of spectators, students of the summer school yesterday evening went through their paces in an interesting physical demonstration in the Victoria High School gymnasium under the direction of W. G. Brandreth, supervisor of physical education in Vancouver schools; Ernest Lee, physical education director, New Westminster, and Mrs. E. Reese-Burns of the Provincial Normal School. A short introductory speech was made by H. L. Campbell, summer school director, in which he said the classes of physical education at the school were the same as the ones that would be carried out by the teachers in the new curriculum for elementary schools.

The first item on the programme was taken part in by 60 students, who went through a routine of supervised games, drill and exercises. At a given signal the students fell into marching formation and then swung into a group of exercises devised for the training of the child in alertness and attentiveness to command.

Ace Tennis Player to Marry

Dorothy Round of Great Britain Chooses Her Trousseau

LONDON—Tweeds, golf trousers, suede waistcoats and military-cut costume with buttoned patch pockets have been chosen for her trousseau by Miss Dorothy Round, Great Britain's ace tennis player and holder of the Wimbledon women's singles championship.

On September 2 she will marry Dr. Douglas Little at Dudley, her Worcestershire home town. Among the crowds of guests will be many of the most famous figures in British sporting circles, including Miss Mary Helley, Miss Round's friend and tennis partner. She will be Miss Round's only bridesmaid.

Her wedding dress will be a oyster satin cut on traditional lines.

In her trousseau there will be many new ideas in sports clothes designed by Jaeger's. With the going-away costume of dark blue tweed, for example, Miss Round will wear a blue georgette blouse trimmed with blue tweed collar and cuffs to match the suit. With this she will wear a plain stitched tweed hat.

High School Teacher Wed

Miss Margaret Swanson

Bride of Mr. David B. Turner

In Vancouver on Saturday evening a wedding of interest to Victorians was solemnized by Rev. Dr. A. M. Sanford when he united in marriage Margaret, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Swanson of Vancouver and Mr. David B. Turner, son of Mrs. Mary Turner and the late Mr. H. Turner of Edmonton. For the last few years the bride has been on the teaching staff of the Victoria High School.

For the occasion the Canadian Memorial Chapel had been decorated with gay summer flowers. The bride was attended by Mrs. F. M. Wallace, Mrs. John Swanson and by Miss Mary Coulter, niece of the groom, all of Vancouver. Mr. Stewart Reid of New Westminster supported the bridegroom.

Gleaming white satin fashioned the graceful Empire model bridal gown with its small satin-covered buttons at the front from the lace yoke at the quaint square neckline to the hemline of the skirt. The long regal train featured insets of lace forming a rippling fullness. The bride's veil of white silk net fell in soft folds from a coronet of starched lace and orange blossoms and in her all-white shower bouquet were gladioli, sweet peas and roses.

Mrs. John Swanson and Mrs. Wallace wore frocks of pink lace, with fitted jackets featuring full sleeves tapering to the wrists and revers opening to show shirred bodices. The skirts with their high moulded waistlines, swirled to a low fullness, and pink tulle formed the narrow facing on their attractively-modeled pink and net halo hats. Their shower bouquets were of pink snapdragons and mauve sweet peas, while the small flower girl, frocked in pale cornflower blue, pointed d'espriat over satin, carried a colonial bouquet.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Marine Drive Golf Club, where Mrs. Swanson, whose graceful jacket frock of Alice blue lace was complemented with a large blue straw hat with a cluster of blue flowers blossoming on the brim, and Mrs. Turner, who also wore a black hat with her floral-patterned chiffon gown, received with the bridal party. Pink was also the color motif expressed in the flowers arranged in the reception rooms, and on the tea table, at which Mrs. E. Taylor, Edmonton; Mrs. J. Laidlaw of Toronto, and Mrs. A. Watson and Mrs. A. Arkwright, had been asked to preside.

Later, when Mr. and Mrs. Turner left for a honeymoon motoring in the south, the latter was wearing an attractive ensemble of burgundy silk streps with a chartreuse green jacket. On their return they will reside in New Westminster.

Guests from Victoria attending the wedding were Mrs. M. M. Hutchinson and Dr. McKellar.

Premier Pattullo Visiting at Banff

BANFF—The highlight of the last week at the Banff Springs Hotel was the departure of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies for 100 miles of riding rough mountain trails to Mount Assiniboine, their objective, and the highest peak in Banff National Park. Viewing the regular sport attractions, the high golf course came in for much attention, due to the increasing interest in Banff's annual golf week, starting August 23, for five days, when golfers from all over Canada and the U.S. will compete for the Edward Prince of Wales Trophy and the Willingdon Cup.

Among the visitors from British Columbia to Banff and Lake Louise are Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia; G. S. Smith, B. Hethcote, C. Ferrie and A. T. Ferrie of Victoria.

News of Clubwomen

The August meeting of the Central W.C.T.U. will be held on Thursday afternoon in the Japanese Tea Gardens at the Gorge at 3 p.m. The election of officers will take place.

Taking the place of the annual picnic meeting at Gorge Park, members and friends of the Women's Missionary Society, Victoria West United Church, held a most interesting and enjoyable out-of-doors meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. Newell. With Mrs. W. F. Perry presiding, a helpful devotional period was conducted by Mrs. George Guy. Routine business included receiving of supplies to be forwarded, also donations towards annual life membership. An encouraging treasurer's report was given by Mrs. J. H. Croft. Mrs. Perry, in a most interesting summary, told the story in detail of unusual experiences of missionaries among the natives of Arabia and Persia.

The Esquimalt Community Club held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening in St. Paul's Guild Room. Mrs. R. McVie presiding. Fifteen cups and saucers and teaspoons were contributed toward the cup-and-saucer shower, and it is hoped that members who were unable to be present will bring their donation at the next meeting, which falls on Labor Day, September 6. During the social interval, members were entertained by Mrs. Len Batchelor, who sang "Marguerita," followed by the old favorite, "Absent." Miss Betty Fawcett of Hollywood gave an interpretation of Hawaiian dancing. Community singing followed and tea was served by Mrs. S. Mitchell and her committee.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Milliken will make their home in Victoria.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Mary McWilson and Miss Dolly McWilson of Calgary, Alberta, and Mrs. Kenneth Kingsley and small son and daughter of Seattle.

On Monday afternoon in Vancouver, Rev. Clemens Sorensen united in marriage Clara Ann, fifth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hansen of Menzies Road, and Mr. Einar Gillien of Hillcrest, V.I., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Gillien of Hjmtyl, Norway.

The bride wore a becoming tailored suit of French blue tweed with a white silk blouse, her hat, shoes and gloves being white. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations and blue sweet peas. The young couple were unattended. After a honeymoon spent in Seattle and the Sound cities, Mr. and Mrs. Gillien will take up residence on the Cowichan Lake Road. MILLIKEN—WALKER

Last evening at the home of the bridegroom's parents, a quiet wedding was solemnized between Margaret "Bunty" Walker, only daughter of Mrs. Margaret Walker of 2706 Victor Street, and Robert, eldest son of Mr. and T. E. Milliken, 1561 Pembroke Street. Rev. J. E. Bell officiated.

The living-room, decorated for the occasion by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Kenneth Kingsley of Seattle, made a perfect setting for the wedding ceremony, the bride standing under a pretty white bell, held in place by many white streamers and trailing pink rosebuds. The bride, who looked charming in her tailored white suit and halo hat with matching pale pink accessories and corsage bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, entered the room on the arm of her brother, Mr. Harry Walker, who gave her away. Miss Vera Masters, a wife some bridesmaid, was also in a tailored white suit and halo hat, with pale blue accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Mr. William Milliken was the best man.

The guests were received by Mrs. Margaret Walker, mother of the bride, who wore a graceful gown of black cut crepe with matching pale pink corsage, assisted by Mrs. T. E. Milliken in black lace and with corsage of pink sweet peas. After the ceremony a dainty buffet supper was served, toasts were offered and responded to. The three-tier wedding cake, later cut by the bride, centred a table decorated with a lovely white cloth, pink sweet peas and white violets. Among the many gifts received by the happy couple was an electric mantel clock from the bridegroom's fellow employees of the B.C. Coast Service.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Milliken will make their home in Victoria.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Mary McWilson and Miss Dolly McWilson of Calgary, Alberta, and Mrs. Kenneth Kingsley and small son and daughter of Seattle.

Long-haired Fur Is Fashionable

CHICAGO—Here are some high points in the 1937-38 fur mode noted today at current fashion exhibitions.

Short boxy jackets with squared-off shoulders for daytime wear especially good in the long-haired furs.

Other daytime coats are shorter than last season and are from knee to mid-thigh in length. The silhouette is boxy, swagger or fitted princess.

The new line for sleeves in afternoon and evening coats is the elbow. Daytime sleeves reach to the wrist.

Many new sleeves are straight and tend toward fullness. Others are fitted to about the elbow and full above, recalling the leg o' mutton days.

Vancouver Captures Opening Ball Game

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

DETECTIVES who go hunting for criminals have a snap job, compared to that of the little posse of men known as major league baseball scouts who beat about the bushes in search of material. The unceasing search for talent is the most exasperating, discouraging part of the business of conducting a baseball firm. And the purchase of talent is the biggest of all gambles.

The baseball scout, you see, no matter how astute he may be, never knows for sure just what he is paying for. Records mean little when a man is lifted from the obscurity of a minor league and shoved into the hot, withering glare of major league headlines. Connie Mack, for instance, paid out $40,000 for Paul Strand, who had a .400 batting average in the Pacific Coast League. As things turned out, Strand was not worth his fare east. On the other hand, Detroit once paid only $700 for a .240-hitting outfielder named Ty Cobb. You may have heard of him.

Sometimes, of course, a high-priced piece of baseball material, such as Lefty Grove, who cost $100,000, is more than worth his purchase price. But, as a rule, this business of appraising ball players, is as big a gamble as the horse races.

The strange part about most of the 30 or so regular major league scouts is that they couldn't get into the big show themselves when they were players, and yet here they are opening the door to the majors for countless youngsters.

The Cardinals' Charley Barrett, dean of scouts, never could get out of the Texas League as an outfielder, but he has shown the way up to Jeff Tesreau, Art Fletcher, Jim Bottomley, Charley Grimm, Gus Mancuso, Chick Hafey, Pepper Martin, Bing Miller, Muddy Ruel — aw, you can't begin to name the men Mr. Barrett has squinted at and said, "Yeah—I think he'll do. I'll take him..."

Barrett, and many other scouts, will travel as much as 20,000 miles annually by auto, train, bus, plane, and, once in a while, by tractor. Barrett had to ride such a vehicle up a rutty mountain road to take a gander at some hay-pitcher who had all the fellers around and about flabbergasted.

There are some 500,000 young men and old performing in minors, sandlots, and colleges. A scout considers himself lucky if he finds one among all who is a major leaguer right off the bat. Most of the discoveries need further seasoning.

In the case of outfielders, a scout looks for speed, a good arm, and hitting power for extra bases.

The first baseman must be a good batter, and have the ability to shift his feet. The other infielders must have limber backs and shoulders, good hands, speed, and agility.

A catcher must have a good arm, he must be a deadly tagger, and he must be smart and alert. All a scout asks of a pitcher is a fast ball. Poise, curves, technique can be taught; change of pace and control can be acquired. All players, regardless of position, size, color, or creed, must have courage, quiet habits, sound health, and even disposition. Sometimes a scout is willing to overlook habits and disposition, but courage and health must always be there.

Veling, Kumalae Smash Homers In 4 to 1 Victory

Circuit Knocks Beat Wenatchee as 1,500 Watch Pro Clubs Perform

Game Tonight

Two stinging drives over the centre field fence for home runs by centre-fielder Gene Veling and pitcher Clarence "Pineapples" Kumalae, which accounted for three of their runs, gave the Vancouver Maple Leafs a smart 4 to 1 victory over the Wenatchee Chiefs in the first of their two-game Western International Baseball League series at the Athletic Park last night. A crowd of 1,500 witnessed the first-class exhibition.

The professional teams will meet in the second battle this afternoon, starting at 5.

Yesterday's victory retained first place for Manager Johnny Kerr's Leafs in the second half of the league race. Wenatchee were the first half winners.

Vancouver jumped into a two-run lead in the second inning when Veling lifted the ball over the wall with Colbern resting on second base, by virtue of a two-bagger. Two clean singles gave Vancouver another run in the third. Wenatchee broke into the score column for their only run of the ball game in the fourth when two hits sent Bonetti across the plate.

SECOND HOMER

In the fifth Kumalae came through with a healthy clout that went sailing over the right centre field fence and Vancouver missed three runs up. For the next four innings the teams played shutout ball and pulled some sparkling infield play.

Vancouver out-hit Wenatchee nine to eight. Kumalae struck out four and issued two walks. Marcel Serventi, a smooth-working right hander, fanned a pair and walked a like number. Each club had five runners stranded on the bags.

Fielding highlight of the evening was Springer's one-handed spear of Colbern's line drive to the fence in the sixth inning. Springer patrols the left garden for Wenatchee.

Wenatchee pulled a double killing in the first inning to get out of a nasty hole. Serventi, Athey and Wright figuring in the play.

Each club was chalked up with an error, Harrison being the culprit for Vancouver and Springer for Wenatchee.

Harrison, shortstop for Vancouver, and Veling, centre-fielder for the same squad, were the big stickers of the night, each with two hits in three trips to the plate.

Touring English Cricketers Just Escape Defeat Against Toronto Side

TORONTO—Tied up by two of eastern Canada's cleverest spin bowlers, the touring Marylebone Cricket Club team narrowly escaped defeat yesterday. Playing against Toronto Cricket Club in the second match of the tour the Englishmen struggled successfully in a race with the clock and when stumps were drawn had made 119 runs for nine wickets in reply to their opponents' 209.

It was an exciting closing. The last man went in with time for only one over, but this was survived by stubborn defensive play. Ted Carlton and E. F. Loney shared the Toronto team's bowling honors. Both had plenty of spin on the ball and the English cricketers found run-getting extremely difficult from the start. Carlton bowled 24 overs, seven of them maidens, taking five wickets for 42 runs. His colleague dismissed four for 55.

Slow-scoring was the order of the day. Winning the toss, Loney sent his team to the wickets, but only five players reached double figures. Good length bowling and keen fielding kept down the rate of scoring, but Phil Seagram opened his shoulders at times to lead the batsmen with 66. He was at the wickets nearly two hours and hit eight fours.

For the visitors, N. G. Wykes, first wicket batsman, played a masterly innings. In common with the other players on the team he was forced constantly on the defensive. He punished the few loose balls sent down and finally went out leg-before-wicket to Loney after scoring 56 runs. Fifth out at 99, Wykes, who is an Essex County player, hit four fours.

G. C. Newman and C. H. Taylor were the only other English players to get double figures.

Sweep Matches in Various Divisions of B.C. Tennis Championships

British Columbia open net championships approached being an all-American affair as Washington, Oregon and California ranking players swept through local opposition as the tournament continued yesterday on the courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club.

Flashing spasms of form at intervals throughout the match, Mel Dranga, spare Seattle net star, defeated Commander J. C. I. Edwards in straight sets 6-3, 6-1. Dick Bennett, Berkeley, top ranking Californian, made his first appearance in the men's singles and won in straight sets from W. Bartell, San Francisco, 6-0, 6-1. In a like manner fair maidens of the net from south of the border dominated play in the women's division.

CALIFORNIANS WIN

Pat Canning (Alameda) had no difficulty in disposing of Mildred Phillips (Victoria), via the short route. The scores were 6-2, 6-1. An interesting match in the women's singles saw the diminutive Cecile Miner (Long Beach) defeat the veteran Mrs. G. M. Gross (Berkeley) with scores of 6-4, 6-3. Vancouver Marksman Captures Shoot-off in Ontario Meeting

LONG BRANCH, Ont. — The Lieutenant-Governor's gold medal, highest award in Ontario marksmanship, was won yesterday by Capt. Jack Steele of Guelph with a score of 118 out of 120, at the Ontario Rifle Association meeting at Long Branch range.

It took a long duel to decide the holders of the silver and bronze medals, with two Hamilton sharpshooters firing seven extra shots. Sgt. R. S. Potter, who competed at Bisley, took the extra point from Sgt. Jack Freeborn.

The only tie match left over from Monday was won by Lieut. N. Colville of Vancouver. He made one point more than Captain Bobby Kerr of Toronto for the Bankers Cup.

Lieut. Steve Johnson continued his excellent shooting to win top honors in the Tait Brassey match with a score of 104. Johnson's score was outstanding as he scored two possible 35s over the 500 and 600-yard ranges in spite of a haze that shifted across the range.

Salmonbellies Rally to Win

VANCOUVER — The league-leading Westminister Salmonbellies came from behind with a nine-goal rush last night to defeat Burrard Olympics 20 to 16 in a fast Inter-city Box Lacrosse League battle.

Outscored 2 to 1 in the opening quarter, Salmonbellies came back to tie the score at 6 to 6 at half time and although Burrards went one goal up in the third session, they could not hold the fishermen's closing rush.

Pete Meehan led Salmonbellies to victory with five goals and Jenkins was best for Burrards with three counters.

Marconini-Mossey Gain Rink Finals

Eddie Gerard Improved Today

OTTAWA — Hospital authorities today reported Eddie Gerard, noted hockey player, had passed a fair night and his condition was slightly improved. Gerard was taken to hospital Sunday suffering from a throat ailment which necessitated an operation.

Victoria and Cumberland Squads Advance in Big Local Tournament

Teams skipped by G. A. Marconini, Victoria, and M. Mossey, Cumberland, advanced to the final of the Capital City Rinks competition yesterday as play progressed in the Greater Victoria District Lawn Bowling Association's tenth annual tournament. They will meet in the crucial battle Saturday.

In the section 1 play-off to decide the semi-finalists W. Davidson, Burnside, defeated Major S. Baxandall, Victoria. Davidson then advanced to battle M. Mossey, Cumberland, who won the semi-final berth in section 2 by eliminating W. H. Youhill, Victoria, and W. C. Fyfe, Victoria.

There was no need for play-offs in section 3 and 4. D. Wotherpoon, Cedar Cottage, Vancouver, topping the former with six wins and one loss, and G. Marconini, Victoria, turning in a fine cards of seven straight wins in section 4.

GREAT MATCH

At Victoria greens Wotherpoon and Marconini clashed for the right to enter the final. It was a great contest with two equally great combinations in action. Wotherpoon was in front 8 to 3 at the finish of the third end, but the Victoria man came back strong to take the six following ends, boosting his score to fourteen. Wotherpoon rallied during the next four sessions at the end of which the score stood 14 all.

An extra end resulted. In this session both players brought all their bowling experience to use. The Cedar Cottage man was faced with a hard proposition, his only hope resting in the capture of the Jack. This he did, the bowl that did the trick, nestling in the "gutter," to make things look pretty rosy for Wotherpoon. However, Marconini, who was bowling the best game of his career, drew his bowl right to the edge of the green, three inches from the little white sphere, to secure the odd point that gave him victory.

Score by ends:
Marconini — 30031312100001—15
Wotherpoon — 0440000021120—14

In another keenly fought match to decide a finalist, Mossey, Cumberland, defeated W. Davidson, Burnside, 17 to 12. Although the up-land rink appeared to have the better of play the Burnside team put up a great struggle but failed to finish on the large end of the score.

Score by ends:
Davidson — 0010201500210—12
Mossey — 2302060012001—17

The final game will be played Saturday morning at the Victoria greens, A. T. Harris, secretary of the G.V.D.L.B.A., who is in charge of the tournament, announced this morning. It promises to be a great tussle.

Yanks Blast Out Double Victory

Home Run Bats Whip Chicago 7 to 2 and 5 to 3; Cubs Seven Games Ahead

They're there in the clutch—the New York Yankees.

A series for the league lead, an all-star game, or a world series gives many a team the blind staggers. But not Colonel Rupert's boys in white. The Yanks just swing their bludgeons.

Employing their time-honored home run technique—"Hit 'em where they can't possibly be"—the Yanks blew down the Chicago White Sox in both games of a double-header yesterday, 7 to 2 and 5 to 3, and pushed their league lead to seven games.

The season's largest week-day home runs, trade mark of the Yankees since 1921, won both games.

Bill Dickey hit his 19th with three on in the eighth inning of the second game to climax a bombardment that had begun when Lou Gehrig, starting his 1,900th consecutive game, had shot his No. 22 into the stands with two mates aboard in the first inning of the opener.

LAZZERI GETS TWO

Between these two wallpops the Yanks' batting banditti, Joe DiMaggio and Tony Lazzeri, got three homers between them. Joe hit No. 32 with two mates aboard (Turn to Page 13, Col. 4)

LEWIS GOES AFTER LOUIS

Light Heavyweight Champ Ready to Foresake Title for Bout With Joe

PITTSBURGH — John Henry Lewis, rapidly outgrowing his light heavyweight championship, plopped all of his eggs into one basket today and began "hounding" Joe Louis for a heavyweight title fight.

His signature on a contract which would guarantee the Bomber $450,000 to defend his crown in Pittsburgh, Lewis declared he was ready to forsake the 175-pound bracket he has headed since October 31, 1935.

John Henry sat alone, playing a much-worn piano in a side-room of Natie Liff's training camp in the country last night while promoter Ellwood Rigby, manager Gus Greenlee, attorneys and newspapermen discussed the possibility of a heavyweight championship fight in Pittsburgh.

"I weigh a little over 195 now," Lewis said, "and it's kind of hard to get down there. I'd give up the title for a chance at Louis. And I'm going to hound Joe until I get it."

Then he signed the contract giving Rigby the right to match

INDIAN WILL MEET KASHEY

Chief Thunderbird After Revenge When He Battles Syrian on Mat Show

Chief Thunderbird, it appears, was decidedly dissatisfied with the call in his match here with Abe "King Kong" Kashey, Syrian bad-man, some weeks ago, and has requested Promoter Fred Richardson for a return battle. This pair will appear in the main event on Saturday night's show at the Tillicum gym.

Thunderbird and Kashey battled here three weeks ago, with the former given the deciding fall on a foul.

Other leading heavies will be imported for two other matches on the show, while the usual local preliminary will usher in the programme at 9.35 minutes later than usual. The change in time has been made due to the evening torchlight parade arranged by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Britain Rearms and Works for Peace

LONDON (CP)—On the 23rd anniversary of that sultry August 4, 1914, when war was declared on Germany, Great Britain is pushing her efforts to build up barricades of peace. While defensive rearmament continues apace, the nation's leaders seek through diplomacy to avert another European holocaust.

Forced, in the midst of a re-arming Europe, to spend $7,474,687,000 within the next five years in building up her defence power, Britain is exerting her efforts to maintain peace between Europe's clashing factions. Civil war in Spain and undeclared war in the Far East add to the government's difficulties.

Months ago, efforts by the Spanish Non-Intervention Committee to localize the conflict in Spain would have collapsed but for Britain's efforts.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

NEWS IN BRIEF

County Court chambers will be held on Thursday instead of Tuesday next week, it was learned at the courthouse today.

Two motorists who pleaded guilty to charges of driving to the common danger, were each fined $15 by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

The Dean of Columbia hopes that all members of the choir, specially the boys, of Christ Church Cathedral, will attend the funeral service of the late Mrs. Dunsmuir. He requests them to be in the vestry not later than 2.45 p.m. Thursday.

Officials of the Vancouver and Wenatchee Western International League pro ball teams, announced at noon today that the teams would play a third game at the Athletic Park tomorrow evening starting at 6. The clubs played last night with a second game this afternoon.

Theft of a purse containing $20 and her return ticket to Vancouver, from the Beacon Hill bowling green, was reported to city police yesterday by Mrs. C. E. Gibbs, Vancouver. Police are investigating a report that two young boys were involved in the theft.

Tuesday, in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, H. L. Sterling addressed the members of the Victoria and District British-Israel World Federation. His subject took in some aspects of the economic system of the coming age, and he pointed out how it would be based on the fundamental laws contained in the constitution of Israel given to them by God through Moses, the foundation of which was contained in the two first commandments, "for on these hang all the laws and the prophets."

Two Canadian Government assistant trade commissioners will visit Victoria on Saturday. They are Bruce A. Macdonald, who has been stationed for some years at Shanghai and has now been transferred to Oslo, and Max Stewart, who is en route to Shanghai after a tour of duty at Melbourne. Any person interested in meeting either of these officials may make appointments through the local office of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, 640 Fort Street.

Portland Civic Official Here

Accompanying Queen Dorothy of Portland, who is here to participate in Victoria's jubilee celebrations, R. E. Riley, president of the Portland city council and commissioner of finance, and Mrs. Riley and their daughter, Doris Lee, are guests at the Empress Hotel.

Queen Dorothy is chaperoned by Mrs. Raymond B. Kinzer. Although Mr. Riley was in Victoria last year, Mrs. Riley has not seen the city since 1925, and both are spending as much time as possible motoring through the garden areas and the outlying districts.

Fire Hazard Due To Dry Weather

Rains last week-end temporarily removed some of the hazard from the British Columbia forest fire situation, but continued dry weather will quickly bring it back again, according to the weekly report of the British Columbia forest service today.

Although 117 fires occurred during the last week the loss was not serious. Thirty-seven blazes are still burning and 94 were extinguished. So far this year 725 fires have occurred, compared with 836 at the same time last year and 544 in 1935.

Arthur A. Pass Receives Honor

Arthur A. Pass, for 20 years a member of the local staff of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was honored a few days ago when his fellow workers entertained him at dinner at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Pass not alone has been a member of the staff for 20 years, but for that length of time, also, he has been on the same district and is as much beloved by all his policyholders as he is by his colleagues.

Amid festive, musical and floral surroundings, the banquet was held. Mr. Pass and his wife were presented with an inscribed silver tray, a Sheffield reproduction, and a bouquet, and Mr. Pass also received the company's Veteran Medal.

W. W. Macdonald, manager of the local office, paid tribute to the services of Mr. Pass, which he said were much appreciated by the company. Mr. Pass briefly replied. Alderman James Adam was a guest and offered the city's congratulations to Mr. Pass.

GAY AFFAIRS FOR PIONEERS

Residents of Victoria in 1862 Invited to Garden Party on Saturday

This is a gay week for the old-timers of Victoria, the men and women who were born here, or born here the year the city received its charter.

Monday evening they were guests of Mayor McGavin and the City Council at dinner at the Empress Hotel. While they were there they received invitations to attend a garden party on Saturday from 3 to 6 as guests of the British Columbia Historical Society.

This affair will be held at "Molton Combe," the lovely old-world residence of Mrs. W. Curtis Sampson at 1003 Newport Avenue.

ALL INVITED

Members of the committee in charge hope that every resident of '62 will be present with a son or daughter, some relative or a close friend. If transportation is wished it may be arranged for at the anniversary celebration office at the City Hall.

Dr. Kaye Lamb, provincial librarian and archivist, president of the society, and Dr. T. A. Rickard, president of the local branch, will be present. Invitations have also been sent to Mayor McGavin and Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M.P.

Mrs. T. A. Rickard has consented to sing a group of old-fashioned songs in the garden, accompanied by Mrs. George Phillips on a little harmonium which, at one time, was used in the Yukon by the late David Doig. The ladies will be presented with Victorian nosegays, now being made by Miss Alice Pooley.

R. H. B. Ker will attend and take moving pictures, in color, of the pioneers, as they talk in groups in the garden. These pictures will be shown, with those Mr. Ker took at the Vancouver memorial at Petersham Churchyard, near London, early this summer, to one of the first autumn meetings of the Historical Society. The pioneers will be invited to this and will be able to see themselves as they appeared at the garden party.

This afternoon many of the old-timers had a special place in the anniversary parade.

IMPRESSED BY FRIENDLINESS

Malayan Representative to Coronation on First Visit to North America

"Because I can carry with me your friendship, I admire it much more than your scenery," said Choo Kio Peng, representative of Malaya at the Coronation, this morning at the Empress Hotel.

"But," he added, "I have seen nowhere a place as beautiful as Victoria. The climate here is so fresh and the flowers are wonderful."

Mr. Choo, accompanied by his wife and Mrs. Foo Meon Chin, will sail for the Malay States Saturday.

He was impressed as he came across this continent for the first time by the friendliness of the people of the United States and Canada.

"Your country is a continent," he said. "One travels here in thousands of miles, instead of hundreds of miles, and the slow eastern mind cannot form an impression in three weeks of anything so colossal. But we could comprehend the wonderful friendliness of the people. We made friends everywhere we stopped."

Mr. Choo operates large rubber plantations and tin mines.

"Under the present restrictions," he said, "Malaya produces 70,000 tons of tin a year, or 33 per cent of the world's supply."

Labor troubles were scarce, he stated, because the laboring classes had better conditions than any other workers in southern Asia. In the last 100 years, the Chinese population of Malaya had increased to 2,700,000 out of a total population of 5,000,000, mainly because of the better labor conditions.

The British government was one of the chief employers, Mr. Choo said. The Federated Malay States Railway, government-owned, had 1,200 miles of line and had paid for itself entirely without public loans.

English was now the principal language, although almost every one could speak the old Malayan and the laborers mixed about five Chinese dialects and other Asian languages.

A school where man, woman, or child pupils may learn to build model airplanes and other models has been opened at New York's Museum of Science and Industry.

BEEKEEPERS HOLD PICNIC

Field Day at Cowichan Lake
Apiary Camps Is Enjoyed by Many

On Sunday, the Vancouver Island Beekeepers' Association held their annual field day at Cowichan Lake, where their summer apiary camps are situated. Hidden amid the pink and purple of the fireweed are three camps containing from 60 to 70 hives each.

The association visited the Curtis Apiary, where Mr. McLuhan is acting as camp attendant and beekeeper.

After an informal and enjoyable picnic, at which Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Curtis acted as host and hostess, the members of the party having colonies donned veils and gloves and proceeded to the hives.

Mr. Curtis, secretary of the association, opened up several hives whose frames were filled to capacity with crystal clear fireweed honey. Members were able to inspect their own hives and see the honey already extracted at the camp.

So great is the profusion of bloom that honey production is expected to reach a high point this season. Over 150 pounds of honey is calculated per hive if the conditions remain favorable.

Developments in Pulp Looming Up

An era of expansion in the pulp industry of British Columbia is now in the making, according to reports reaching the provincial Department of Lands.

In addition to recently announced plans for a big pulp enterprise at Prince Rupert, representatives of four large pulp interests are now surveying timber stands along the coast for possible development, the department has been advised.

This interest in B.C. timber is seen as a forerunner of development of wood products made possible by modern scientific discoveries. Wood and wood pulp can now be used for manufacture of a variety of products.

Dunsmuir Rites At Cathedral

Funeral of Former Government House Chatelaine Held Tomorrow

Last rites for Mrs. Laura Miller Dunsmuir, widow of the Hon. James Dunsmuir, will be observed tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Dunsmuir died yesterday after a lingering illness.

Victorians will pay their final tribute to the pioneer woman at a service in Christ Church Cathedral.

The cortege will leave Hatley Park, the Dunsmuir home, at 2.30 in the afternoon, arriving at the cathedral at 3 when the service will be commenced. Dean C. S. Quainton will conduct the service.

Mrs. Dunsmuir will be buried in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery. Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors are making the arrangements.

From all across Canada and from England today messages of condolence were received at Hatley Park. Mrs. Dunsmuir had friends in many parts of the world, many of whom were entertained at her home here in former years.

Letters to the Editor

APPRECIATION

To the Editor:—Through the courtesy of this column the local branch of the League of Nations Society wish to thank all those who helped to make their annual garden party, which was held at the home of Senator and Mrs. G. H. Barnard, an outstanding success. They wish to thank all who gave so generously materials for the tea or for sale, also all the conveners and those who gave their afternoon in helping at the various stalls, games and dancing.

C. S. QUANTON,
President League of Nations Society.

UNCLUTTERING PARLIAMENT SQUARE

To the Editor:—As a frequent visitor to the Parliament Buildings I just wanted to offer my congratulations to the person who was responsible for the placing of those signs on the driveway, warning motorists not to park their cars along the main entrances to the buildings. I have seen in the past all kinds of trucks and garbage wagons along the driveway, obliterating the view of one of our beauty spots. Now one can get a splendid view of the lawn and flower beds without climbing in and around a lot of cars, which in the past have been very dangerous to pedestrians.

I am sure Mr. Reed, the superintendent, will be pleased to see that his work in keeping the grounds in their present state of perfection will be more appreciated by the tourists and those whose business call them to the buildings. So let us give thanks to those that were responsible for the new order. Now it is up to the Provincial Police to see that the order is carried out without fear or favor.

TOOLEY FISH,

NOISY WEDDINGS ALSO IRK HIM

To the Editor:—I am delighted up and taking notice about the up and taking notice about the noise in Victoria. One of the letters to you came from a visitor. Sometimes when I hear wedding parties go screeching through town at midnight I feel ashamed of what our visitors must think. Some nights there are four or five wedding parties. The noise is disgraceful and the entire procession in bad taste. Does anyone know if large cities allow such noisy weddings? No one wants people to remain quiet all the time, but surely a little thought and consideration for others should be given. I notice one good sign. More and more people are agreeing the radio is becoming a nuisance. Radios are now turned on full blast and then let go, on and on, for hours, with no one in the house listening, just shouting at each other over the din and the shrieking while the poor neighbors have to listen to the general uproar created. And when the Showboat gets going, too, and the loud-speakers make it sound noisy and cheap to the residents of Fairfield, I indeed become ashamed to think what the tourists must say about us.

VANCOUVER STREET RESIDENT.

BISCUIT POISON

To the Editor:—I must apologize to Mr. W. Downes of the Dominion Entomological branch for stating that two deaths in Vancouver were caused by the eating of biscuits leavened with baking powder in which sodium fluoride had been mixed. Mr. Downes says that the poison was sodium silico fluoride, and that this is several times stronger than the first named.

My information was gleaned

Music.. For Everyone

Learn to play a musical instrument... of course you can. We have started hundreds along the road to musical proficiency by loaning them an instrument for their first lessons—and when they see how interesting and easy it is, they are sorry they didn't begin sooner!

Fletcher Bros. is a complete music store. Every variety of instrument is here: Piano—accompanys by Hohner, de Luxe Italian instruments by Finzi, Bertini and Salanti. Gibson Guitars, Violins, Harmonicas by Hohner and Borrah Minavitch... every kind of instrument to suit every purse.

however, from the news reports of the Vancouver press of the inquests and post mortems, and if I remember, the words "sodium fluoride" were used. However, I may be wrong.

Granted that the sodium silico fluoride is several times stronger than the sodium fluoride, it must not be forgotten that the quantity per pound of baking powder usually used is very much less than the quantity of the poison used in earwig bait, i.e., sodium fluoride, therefore the toxic strength of the two mixtures, the leavened dough from which the biscuits were made, which caused the deaths and the earwig bait as usually employed, would be practically equal. I am not a scientist, but I do know how to mix biscuit dough. The late Messrs. Treherne and Blackmore, the two best entomologists British Columbia has ever had, did not assume to be scientists, and I am very glad indeed to know that we have a scientist of attainments of Mr. Downes in our midst. He has omitted, however, to tell us in what branch of science he has taken his degrees, as there are no explanatory initials at the end of his name.

Regarding earwig bait, I was the first person in the province to get the formula from the University of Washington, to have the mixture made up and to have tried it out in the Stanley Park gardens in Vancouver, where the pests were becoming troublesome. This formula, I may state, contained no meat ingredient whatever.

I did this—non-scientifically of course—to test the efficacy of the bait as an exterminator. This was long before the insects appeared here in Victoria. I hope this information, from a non-scientific layman, will thoroughly satisfy Mr. Downes.

BOXER DIES OF INJURIES

Johnny Page Passes After Being Knocked Out by Eddie Zivic

PITTSBURGH — Deputy Coroner J. L. Davidson ordered a "thorough investigation" today into the death last night of Johnny Page, Chicago lightweight, 24 hours after he was knocked out by Eddie Zivic.

Davidson said a post-mortem would be held and that he would question Zivic, Page's handlers, the examining physicians and ring officials.

A brain concussion caused the death of the 22-year-old fighter, who crumpled under a smashing right to the head in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-round semi-final match Monday night.

Since 1934 Page had won 13 fights, eight by knockouts, and had lost five.

WOODSTOCK, Ont. (CP) — Springbank Snow Countess looked down today from the place where good cows go and saw herself immortalized in lasting metal.

In a little plot of lush, green grass, like the meadows where the countess once chewed a contemplative cud and set a world record for production, stood the statue of Oxford County's famous cow.

Ontario's Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Herbert A. Bruce, came here today to unveil the life-sized statue and from many Ontario and eastern United States points came hundreds of cattlemen to do honor to Snow Countess.

On a granite base, the metal Snow Countess stands to mark permanently the record of 9,062 pounds of butterfat from 207,050 pounds of milk as a lifetime production.

Bred and owned by T. R. Dent, Snow Countess died last August after a calf was born and the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada decided to immortalize her at a cost of around $4,000. She was nearly 18 years old when she died.

Adventures of Grizzly Adams

III--FACING A BIG BEAR

After capturing the grizzly cub, Adams took good care of her. She was given food at the camp, and her master called her "Lady Washington." A long chain was placed about her neck, and she was led around so she would have enough exercise.

The man and the bear faced each other

As time passed, the bear became so tame and friendly that Adams did not need even to hold the chain. She would follow him about like "a dog." When the long chain was not in use, it was wound around her neck.

One day Adams went out to look at a trap. Having lent his rifle to a friend at camp, he was armed only with a pistol and a bowie knife. "Lady Washington" followed him.

A little later, he caught sight of several deer, and though he felt it was foolish, he decided to try to shoot one of them with his pistol. Creeping around toward a spot where he could fire from closer range, he passed through some underbrush.

After he had crawled about 100 yards, he was startled when his pet bear gave a sudden snort and made a noise with her teeth. Looking around, Adams saw just behind her a savage old grizzly which had reared on his hind legs.

What could he do? Without a rifle, he was almost at the bear's mercy. To shoot the animal with his pistol would have been dangerous, for a wounded bear is more likely to charge than one which has not been hurt.

On the other hand, he thought it would be dangerous to do nothing. His pet bear was no match for the big grizzly. If he climbed a tree, she might be clawed and bitten while he was on the way up. Moreover, the bear might charge him while he was trying to get to a tree and climb it.

These thoughts flashed quickly through his mind. Then he started to carry out a plan of a very different sort. He would try to frighten the grizzly.

Catching hold of the chain around Lady Washington's neck, he unwound it as quickly as he could. As he did so, the grizzly dropped on all fours and came closer, then rose again.

Holding one end of the chain, Adams stood stock-still, with his pistol in his hand. For a few moments, the bear and the man looked at each other closely. Then came the action which was to decide between life and death. The hunter made all the noise he could; he clanked the chain, fired his pistol, and yelled at the top of his voice.

Not touched by the pistol bullet, the grizzly turned and ran. He seemed to be "frightened out of his wits." The danger was over for that day.

UNCLE RAY. Tomorrow--Two Baby Grizzlies. (Copyright, 1937, Publishers' Syndicate)

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX--A married man, very honorable, conscientious and religious, became acquainted with a young unmarried woman of the same high character. They were members of the same church and met quite often in church work. They were attracted to each other and before they realized it this attraction had deepened into love, but they never mentioned it to each other. They never held an intimate conversation or were never alone together at any time. They do not approve of divorce and realize that because of the nature of the man's profession divorce would ruin his life. But he felt that he must confess to his wife, that it was unfair to her for them to continue to live together as if nothing had happened. He thought that she would be understanding and compassionate and that they could remain together because, although they have no children, they have much in common. Their education and cultural backgrounds are the same and she can help him professionally. So he told her what had happened. She was furious and angry and had no sympathy or pity for him. She has never ceased to reproach and nag and torture him. They quarrel continually and she has left him many times and gone home to her people. She has made it almost impossible for the Other Woman to continue in church activities by her hatred and bitterness and her proud, arrogant and patronizing attitude toward her. To bring about peace the girl would withdraw from the church and leave the city if she could, but cannot because of responsibility at home. What should she do?

DISCOURAGED.

Answer--"Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned," and this wife who had herself superseded in her husband's affection by another woman will never stop until she wreaks vengeance upon her rival. She will torture her in every way in her power and do everything possible to disgrace her and drag her down.

There is no way in which the girl can defend herself against this bitter hate. The wise thing for her to do is to go away from the scene of strife. It is the only possible way in which she can save not only her life but also her reputation, which is dearer than life to her. She should do this even if it involves causing her family to make some sacrifices, for it will save them from more suffering in the end. Away from the jealous wife the girl will at least have peace and a chance to rebuild her life.

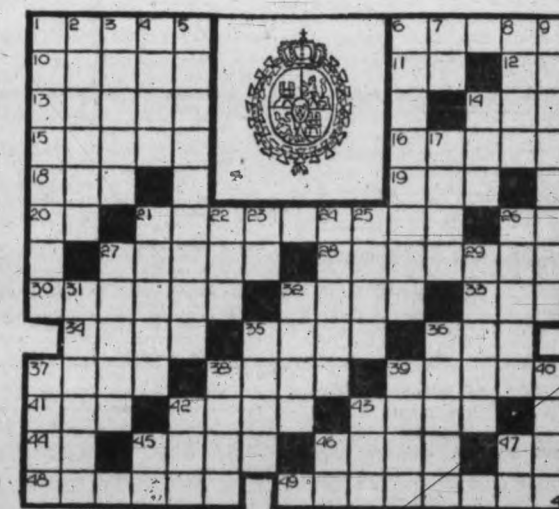

I am not a believer in indiscriminate divorce, but in this particular case, where there are no children to consider and where the happiness of three people is concerned, I think it is the only remedy. Certainly no good purpose could be served and no morality promoted by a husband and wife living together when they have come to hate each other, when each brings out what is worst in the other's character and when they are fighting like cat and dog all the time. Certainly nothing could be more ruinous to the man's profession, whatever it may be, than for him to have his mind so upset by his domestic problems and his judgment so warped by his emotional strain that he can give no intelligent thought to his work.

Surely there can be no happiness for the wife in a marriage in which she is half crazed with jealousy and in which her only thoughts of her husband are filled with bitterness and a desire for revenge. The sooner such a marriage as that is broken up, the better for all parties; it seems to me.

It is, of course, a tragic thing for a man to fall out of love with his wife and in love with another woman, but the heart is an unruly member that we cannot always control. In this case, at least, the husband kept the letter if not the spirit of his marriage contract, and that is all that any human being can do. But he knew little of the nature of women if he was foolish enough to think that his wife would understand that another woman had an attraction for him that she had never had, and depths in his nature that she had never stirred. It would take a bigger brain and a deeper heart than many women possess to do that. A man never makes a greater mistake than when he tells his wife of any other woman he has ever loved. It only gives her food for jealousy.

TREES' VALUE IS STRESSED

A. R. Sherwood Tells Society They Help to Conserve Moisture

Stressing the part that timber played in the conservation of moisture in the soil, A. R. Sherwood gave an interesting talk on "Trees" to a well-attended meeting of the Victoria Horticultural Society in the City Hall yesterday evening.

Mr. Sherwood illustrated the various phases of his address with specimens which he had collected locally.

During the evening the lecturer was heartily congratulated by the society when it was learned that he was celebrating his 75th anniversary at the same time the city was celebrating its 75th year since incorporation.

Subscriptions toward a testimonial to be presented to F. E. Boulter, secretary of the society for 17 years, who retired from active service recently, were taken at the meeting by Duncan McTavish, the new secretary.

No report on the show was presented at the meeting, but it was intimated that the exhibition was most successful and a cash balance could be expected. All those who had helped at the Willows were thanked.

Winners in the monthly competition were: Gladiosi (three blooms), 1. Mr. Duncan; 2. M. O. Mayhew; F. T. Rawling also exhibited a beautiful vase of seedling carnations, which were much admired.

Palestine Plan Changes Urged

World Zionist Congress Finds British Scheme Unacceptable

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — The World Zionist Congress today plunged into debate on the British royal commission proposal to partition Palestine as a solution of bitter Arab-Jewish disputes that have brought bloodshed to the Holy Land.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the Zionist organization, urged that Zionists negotiate concerning the Holy Land's future with Great Britain.

Division of the Holy Land into a Jewish state, an Arab state and a small mandated territory is proposed by the royal commission.

Dr. Weizmann declared the plan as it now stood, placing the Jewish state's border west of the River Jordan, was not acceptable to Jews interested in development of a national homeland in Palestine.

Precaution Against Japanese Invasion, Say President Grant Passengers

Millions of dollars worth of silver are being shipped out of Shanghai as a precaution against possible invasion of the treaty port by the Japanese, according to word brought by passengers aboard Ss. President Grant, here this morning from the Orient.

Most of the silver is being sent from Shanghai to Hongkong and much silver bullion is now being brought here by trans-Pacific liners, destined for New York.

This movement is said to be due to the recent agreement whereby the United States government agreed to exchange gold for Chinese silver.

"The C.I.O. is controlled from the top, instead of by the membership. In addition, the membership felt the C.I.O. was formed to organize the unorganized and not to take over well-established organizations.
